Rearing and supplement food for fancy fowl

- ✓ balanced composition
- ✓ adapted for breeding fowl
- ✓ with high-quality animal protein

Specially adapted rearing and supplement food for fancy fowl such as pheasants, peafowl, quail, guinea fowl and turkeys.
Universal has proven to be an optimal rearing food preferred by breeders and bird lovers for decades. With valuable dried insects, micro-crustaceans, minerals and cereals, it is extremely rich in energy and protein, and thus promotes the healthy development of chicks (note that the enclosure should always be suitable for the species and offer ample space for the animals to move around in and not put on fat.). Naturally, we also offer suitable food for your fledglings to continue to thrive.

Ingredients:

Cereals, bakery products, vegetable by-products, molluscs and crustaceans (7.5%), nuts, insects (2%), minerals

Feeding recommendations:

For young chicks, Universal should be prepared freshly several times a day together with grated carrots or similar moist foods. Later, the food can also be given dry, but only together with other appropriate foods, especially if there is no access to a green roaming area.
Because fancy fowl, like many other birds, need and enjoy live food as an important dietary supplement (mealworms, crickets, grasshoppers, etc.), we also offer these in top quality.
For an optimal supply of vital substances, we recommend our Supplement Food.
